

MilliTALK Delivers 3.0 with a Fresh Vibrant Interface and SMS Texting

Fort Myers, Florida (September 21, 2012) - MilliTALK 3.0 was recently released and delivers SMS texting and a vibrant, user friendly interface. It has been received with great enthusiasm and can be downloaded for free at the Apple App Store. MilliTALK is designed for iOS devices such as the iPad, iPod Touch and the iPhone

Millicorp announced the release of MilliTALK 3.0 today and is immediately available for download in the Apple App Store. The announcement of MilliTALK 3.0 was met with enthusiasm for the much anticipated SMS text messaging along with a newly designed user interface. MilliTALK was designed to make the iPhone a better phone and to extend the functionality of Apples non-phone devices, more specifically the iPad and iPod Touch for calling and now SMS text messaging and can be downloaded for free. MilliTALK is a division of Millicorp; Millicorp is a network of communication products, services and applications providing solutions for telecommunications needs globally.

The trend for texting shows no sign of slowing down and as reported in the United Telecommunications Union there an estimated 200,000 texts being sent every minute. MilliTALK, a highly reviewed texting app for iOS devices, recognized the need for a strong SMS texting platform. MilliTALK instinctively designed a comprehensive structure prepared to handle high volume with a user friendly interface and features with personality and for convenience. Whether it's customizing the background screen with a personal photo or using the message organizer which enables the user to search messages, send messages via e-mail or to place a call to the person being texted it all can be done from the same page. Additionally a few other friendly features are the ability to email entire text messages whether from the device or the directly from the app and the ability to search for any text by date or keywords, which makes it a breeze to search for a specific text. Presently MilliTALK's SMS texting is for U.S. domestic service however the arrival of international texting is soon to be released. Until then, as always, all MilliTALK to MilliTALK calls and texts are completely free.

President and CEO Timothy Meade recently said "Consumers and businesses communicate globally today more than ever and we have just kicked it up a notch and streamlined the process. For example MilliTALK's text messages are synced with all your devices instantly, the iPhone, iPad, and iPod Touch and in your browser through the MilliTALK portal. It makes communicating easy, no matter where you are."

MilliTALK has received a 4.8 star average with rave reviews from businesses to consumers A recent review was placed by Kyle Jackimowicz who commented "MilliTALK, it's my favorite app, my co-workers use it so we can all communicate for free, I never lose a call if my iPhone dies because MilliTALK will ring on my iPad too, it's crazy cool, and I can also email full text conversations which is very cool when I am brainstorming on the go!"
